A New Yankee Trick.

I went up to one of the slaughter houses to see a friend of mine While I was there a man who paddied kerosene around the city in a wagon drove up and wanted some bladders. He finally bought a lot of those sheep bladders that will hold when blown up from a pint to a quart. After he left we talked it over and woodered what the man could want them for. They are used in making bologus sausages, but he couldn't want them for this. Finally I started for home and in cutting across a field came up on the 'peddier's wagon standing by the fence. The kerosene cans in the wagon were covered with a cloth. I walked up closer and saw the man at work partly under the cloth. He would take a bladder, force it down through the mouth of a can, blow it up with a stick with a hole through it, take a string from a bunch siready cut and ready, tie the mouth of the bladder and let it remain in the can. I watched him until he had fixed up all his cane in that way. He had some bladders left and I was anxious to see what he intended to do with them. He drove slong to a bouse and a woman came out to buy some kerosene, bringing her own cap. He got partly under the cloth while filling the can and I saw him put one of the bladders in her can and blow it up the same as he did in his own cane. He then gave her the can and went along. This is a pretty sharp trick. Every can with a bladder inside will hold of course from a pint to a quart less oil than he is getting pay for. Fall or empty,

no one would be likely to discover the blad der in the can. It would not rattle, being soft, would add nothing to the weight and SNETT CHEWING BOCIETY WOMEN, - It has been no great secret that many ladies in society here of late years have smoked more or less digarettes, writes a Washing. Thursday, for a week's fishing spree on the majorty, let the organ be used. tice of souff-dipping found great favor among the fair eex and many genteel and high bred ladies in society have indulged in it. Each souff-dipper has her bottle and swab stick, from and by which she conveys the filthy dust to her lips. The article used for this repulsive purpose is the old fash ioned vellow Scotch anuff, of which four times as much is consumed in this way by the women of this metropolis as for the titillation of the offictory organ by all the snuff takers of both sexes. When the practice has once fastened upon a woman it is said that she rarely, if ever, is able to shake it off. Naither rained health, self respect, love for her husband, children or friends can give her sufficient resolution to abstain from "digging" or "dipping," as rouff chewing is called.

JOHNSON HER HUSBAND'S MEMORY .- A husband was sitting in his store at Marietto when a letter in a familiar handwriting was handed to him It was from his wife, whom he had left at home that morning with every assurance of affection and devotion But the very first sentence startled him and as he read on the most terrible. suspicion selzed him "I am forced to tell you something that I know will trouble you, but it is my duty to do so I am dotermined you shall know it, let the result be what it may. I have known for a week that this trial was coming, but kept it to myself until to-day, when it has reached a crisis and I can keep it no tonger. You must not censure me too harshly, for you must reap the reward as well as myself. I do hope it won't crush you. The flour is all ou! Please send some this afternoon. 1 get it."

Near this place there lives a farmer who always wore a soft, woolen hat and when he went to the war he always slept with his hat for a pillow. The babit of four years' standing was fastened upon him not to be shaken off, and even to this day when old man John sceks the arms of Morpheus the old wool hat must pillow the shot and shell .- [Gibson (Ga) Enterprise:

Jay Gould has recently made use of the following in regard to wealth: "After all, what does any man get in this world except something to wear and some where to live." Over 15 years ago we wrote an article in regard to Gould's rapidly accumulated millions, used the same word and sent Gould's marked capy of the paper and wrote on the margin of the paper. "Now, Jay, divide up and go lishing and have some fun with your money." Did Mr. Gould divide up" Naw: Did he quit trying to pile up millions and go lishing and have fun? Naw! OBITUARY.

- A note from Dr L. R. Yates informs us that his mother, Mrs. Ruth Yates, died at his home in Hisaatha, Kaness, on the 11th of April, 1887, to the 821 year of her age, where she had lived for the last ten or twelve years. Thus a mother in Israel has passed away; gone to her home "beyond the river." For about 40 yests she was an honored member of the Methodist church in was B. F. Sutton, postmaster, to Martha the town of Stanford, Ky., ever true and empty in the house of worship, and at so enough children and other people here to red her to be a constant, true and faithful servent of the God of all grace. Her sick mountains if they could only be induced to and sillicted neighbors, ever, if able to go, received her kind and faithful ministrations and christian attentions. Her house was itinerant preacher. We knew her long; we article of merit.
